

Where is the static content?

Contributed by Administrator

Wednesday, 11 October 2006 - Last Updated Thursday, 03 May 2007

In Joomla! versions prior to 1.5 there was a distinctive difference on static and normal content. Both content types are still around, but are not handled as separate items. If you want to create static content, just select "uncategorized" as section and category and the content is handled as static content.